14B. President Obama announced executive actions on immigration in 2012 and 2014 that would allow a small proportion of the undocumented immigrant population to obtain legal work permits and temporary relief from deportation. Republican governors and attorneys general from 26 states, with the support of Republicans in Congress, sued to Obama administration to stop some of these policies from taking effect. Methodology

Latino Decisions completed 5,600 interviews with Latinos with strong turnout histories who reported having already voted, or reported being certain to vote in the November 8, 2016 presidential election. Interviews were conducted either on-line or via telephone with live callers, all of whom were bilingual, and both phone and web interviews were completed in the language of preference of the respondent. Respondents were reached on landline (40%) and cell phones (35%), or invited to complete the survey on the web (25%), between November 2-7, 2016 and interviews averaged 10 minutes in length.

The national sample (N=5,600) carries an overall margin of error of +/-1.8 percentage points. Florida has 800 completed interviews and carries a margin of error of +/-3.5 percentage points.
